

Call for admission to the Advanced Training Course of

“LAGOONAL PHYTOPLANKTON: ITS TAXONOMY, MORPHOMETRICS AND PIGMENT FINGER PRINTS”

The course is part of the project “Methodological procedure implementation and software tool development for the assessment of ecological status of aquatic ecosystems from the analysis of phytoplankton guilds” funded by Puglia Region, cod. PS 126, CUP B85E08002720006

The training course on “LAGOONAL PHYTOPLANKTON: ITS TAXONOMY, MORPHOMETRICS AND PIGMENT FINGER PRINTS” will consist of training on identification and microscopy techniques of transitional waters and marine coastal phytoplankton.

Participation at the specialist training plan is limited to 20 participants resident in European Union.

The duration of the course will be from 1st to 12th October 2012 and external experts and staff involved in the project will be engaged in all scheduled activities. The course will consist in lessons and practical activities in the laboratories of University of Salento, Department of Biological and Environmental Sciences and Technologies of University of Salento - Centro Ecotekne, , Via Monteroni , Lecce, Italia .

The course will consist of training on identification and cell morphology of transitional waters and marine coastal phytoplankton, with emphasis on light microscopy and use of electron and confocal microscopy techniques. The course is directed to young scientists at the early stage of their career.

The purpose has been to improve the skills of the participants in taxonomy and morphology for research purposes and for practical monitoring of phytoplankton.

Participation is limited to 20 participants resident in EU with less than 35 years of age, at least for 50% of the participants. MSc degree in Biological or Environmental Science and with at least 4 years of documented experience or PhD in taxonomy/ecology of phytoplankton is required. The course is free of registration and tuition charges for the participants. The official language is English.
